

Why choose Microhire for conferences?

Professional Conference Organisers know that quality, precision and attention to detail are central to a successful event.

The core reason why people hold a conference is to convey information - and your choice of Audio Visual supplier is critical to getting the message across. If the delegate cannot see or hear the presentation effectively they will leave with a negative impression of the entire event – no matter how good lunch is!

Microhire understand this. When engaged by a Professional Conference Organiser to provide the audio-visual for a conference we do not see ourselves as a just a supplier. We are part of YOUR team. We don't just ensure there is great sound and eye-catching visuals - we are there to help make the event run without a hitch.

We know that your reputation is at stake with every event – ours is too. We feel just as strongly as you do about making the event the best it can be.

Your success is our success.

What are the benefits of Microhire?

Latest Technology

We are constantly striving to bring new and more efficient ideas to the conference arena; and greater efficiency means more competitive pricing.

Our stock includes a wide range of super bright projectors, professional projection screens, specialised sound systems and drape kits as well as standard conference equipment such as whiteboards, flipcharts etc.

Wireless networks, remote control computers, and remote visual broadcast are some of the tools we are using on a daily basis to streamline the conference process.

Friendly, Skilled Staff

- Account Managers that work as part of your team, designing events to fit your budget
- AV Operators skilled with their equipment and motivated to set a presenters mind at ease
- Speakers Preparation Room Operators skilled with computers who know the importance of getting the right presentation to the right room at the right time.

Our team is there to make your event run smoothly.

Personal Service

But the best benefit of all is – one company means one point of contact – anywhere in the country. Microhire has worked in almost every major venue in Australia. By choosing Microhire, you will be assigned a single Account Manager who will cater for YOUR needs.

Your Microhire Account Manager will learn how YOU want to run an event and design it around YOUR needs. We won't try and bamboozle you with technology, and we won't try and tell you what to do – we work for you so that you get what YOU want.

In the past, you may have worked with an AV company that provides great service and support in one location but then found yourself explaining your needs all over again at the next conference. How can you be sure that the next conference will run as well as the first? With Microhire as your supplier your Account Manager becomes your personal AV assistant, no matter where you go!

Are we expensive?

The short answer? NO! Microhire will design the show around YOUR budget.

If your client wants to theme the room and go all out making the event an experience to remember, we can deliver. However, for the budget conscious that just want the best quality that their budget can buy, our Account Managers will carefully design the event to suit.

By staying abreast of the latest technology we are constantly updating our stock with newer and easier to use products. These products simplify the conference process, and we pass these savings on to you!
